

Animal Health Watch

Signs of an unusual and serious situation:

- Several animals or birds sicken at once.
- Marked drop in milk or egg production.
- Multiple sudden deaths or changed behaviors.
- Tenderfootedness, loss of coordination.
- Head swellings, discharges, breathing or multiple sudden abortions.
- Blisters around mouth, nose, teats or difficulties hooves (cattle, pigs, sheep, goats or horses).

What to do:

Stay put and call for help from your veterinarian, extension office or other local or state authorities.

Animal Health Contact Numbers:

Veterinarian

County Extension Office

Maryland Department of Agriculture (ask for Animal Health)

1-800-492-5590

Centreville Animal
Health Diagnostic Lab

410-758-0846

College Park Animal
Health Diagnostic

Lab: 301-314-1870

Frederick Animal Health
Diagnostic

Lab: 301-694-1548

Oakland Animal Health
Diagnostic

Lab: 301-334-2185

Salisbury Animal Health
Diagnostic

Lab: 410-543-6610

USDA/APHIS Veterinary Services:

301-734-8073

USDA/APHIS
Emergency Operations
Center:

1-800-601-9327

It is the policy of Maryland Cooperative Extension, that no person shall be subjected to discrimination on the grounds of race, color, gender, religion, national origin, sexual orientation, age, marital or parental status, or disability.